

WOW!

It's the scabby elbowed YS SUBS CLUB

WITH YOUR HOST

LINDA BARKER

Dearest Spec-chums,

It's been a strange month here in the Shed. First of all it rained, then it rained some more and then the drains were topped up with a bit more rain. And now, now that autumn's started and I'm looking forward to bundling myself up in big jumpers, the sun's blimmin' come out. Typical, I call it. Ho hum, I suppose I should just mellow out and enjoy it while it lasts.

Unless you're very preoccupied, you'll have noticed that there's quite a lot of Doctor Who stuff in the mag this month. Not to be outdone, I've made this Subs Club a Dr Special. Over the page you'll find a remarkably efficiently designed boardgame that actually works very well. It's a kind of cross between Snakes and Ladders and Trivial Pursuit. All you need to play are some buttons, one for each player, and a die. To make it even more fun, you can use chocolate buttons instead of real buttons. After your go, eat your choccie button and replace it with a new one. The Snakes and Ladders bit comes into play when you land on a Dalek or Tardis, Daleks are snakes and Tardis are ladders. Land on a Dalek and you'll have to go back to the previous Dalek, land on a Tardis and you can zoom forward to the next one.

When you land on Tom Baker, he'll ask you a Dr Who related question. If you get it right, then throw the die again (and eat another chocolate button). If you get it wrong, miss a go. (And watch everybody else eat a chocolate button!) As with most question and answer games, you'll probably know all the answers the second time round. In anticipation, I've written down some extra questions that you can photocopy and put in a pile on the table. Or something.

Hope you enjoy the game. We had an ace time with it, except Dave and Jon knew absolutely all the answers and I didn't get a chance to answer any. Still, I wrote them, so I know the answers anyway.

Apart from this here game, what other news is there? Well, Rich Pelley turned up at the Shed the other week with a great big bag full of American sweets. He'd just got back from Seattle and I'd asked him for some Lemonhead Boys. We had Atomic Fireballs, Fruit Cocktail Imperials, Magic Mountains, Alexander the Grape, Froop Pops and Sour Foot Strawberry Fizz. All American sweets have got 'Artificially Flavored' plastered all over the box so, needless to say, we all felt very ill for at least an hour. Other news? Oh, I went to the a big computer show and wandered around for a bit. There were loads of computer games, loads of people in suits, no public, Craig Charles and an Alien. The Future Entertainment Show should be loads better cos there are going to be real people there, not just the business ones. I'll def be there and I'm trying to persuade Jon to come too. If you're going, make sure you come and say hello. Goodbye!

Lots of love,

Linda ❀

EXTRA QUESTIONS

For those incredibly clever people out there who have answered all the other questions, here are some extra ones for the game overleaf. Photocopy them, cut them out and use them instead of the ones written on the board.

Who was the youngest Dr?	Who was the oldest Dr?	Which Dr went on to have a Very Peculiar Practice?	Which monsters were the size of mice, yet never trodden on?	What's inside a Dalek?
Who played Sarah-Jane Smith?	Who composed the Dr Who theme music?	Which assistant, in her younger days, threatened to 'thqueam and thqueam'?	What is the Dr?	Who is the Dr's arch enemy?
Who is the most recent Dr's assistant?	In which story does the Dr battle with a Victorian Chinese hypnotist?	Which baddies are, indirectly, responsible for the Loch Ness Monster?	In whose mansion was The Seeds of Doom filmed?	Which story was Tom Baker's last?
Who were the baddies in the last Jon Pertwee story?	How many Drs have graced our TV sets?	Who played the Dr in the movies?	Who had a hit with 'Doctorin' the Tardis'?	Who was originally going to design the Daleks?
Which Dr has a tattoo?	Who played the very first companion, and was recently in Coronation Street?	How many K9s were there?	Which soap does Jamie, the longest running companion, now appear in?	Who played Steven, a companion of the first Dr?

EXTRA ANSWERS Reading from left to right, the answers to the extra questions are... Peter Davison • William Hartnell • Peter Davison • Cybarmats • Green slime • Elizabeth Sladen • Ron Goodwin • Bonnie Langford • Timelord • The Master • Peter Dinklage • Ace (Sophie Aldred) • The Talons of Weng Chiang • Zygons • Mick Jagger's • Spiders • Seven • Peter Cushing • The Timelords • Ridley Scott • Jon Pertwee • William Russell • Three • Emmerdale Farm • Peter Purves

The answers to the game questions, running from top to bottom, are... Patrick Troughton • The handle's shaped like a question mark • The Autons • An Unearthly Child • Terry Nation • Revelation of the Daleks • Bonnie Langford • Cybarmats • The Hon Sarah (Lalla) Ward • Jon Pertwee • Gallifrey • Parts • Bavarian dancers. (It's true!)

THE SEARCH FOR KNOWLEDGE

Test your Dr Who knowledge with this amazing game! All you need is a button for each player and a die. The game itself is a combination of Snakes and Ladders and Triv. If you land on a Tom Baker and answer the question correctly you get another go. If you answer wrongly you miss a go. If you land on a Tardis then move on up to the next Tardis. If you land on a Dalek, go down to the previous Dalek. Easy peasy, eh? Now, get Doctoring!

